SNOW REMOVAL POLICY

DECEMBER 2008 (adopted fall 2006 by board discussion of topic)

"The HPVA has a two inch trigger point for hired snow removal. Extenuating circumstances can alter that to a small degree. For example, heavy drifting, whether the snow is "light and fluffy" making it easy to travel through, or "heavy and wet" making it difficult to travel through, and whether a warm sunny day is expected to melt it off, all contribute to the decision to hire snow removal at the 2 inch mark. Snow of greater accumulations becomes more automatic in the trigger to hire removal."
